STOP ANTISEMITISM COLORADO ACTION FUND ISSUES ENDORSEMENTS IN KEY LEGISLATIVE RACES

Judy Amabilie for SD18, Cecelia Espenoza for HD4, Sean Camacho for HD6, and Michael Carter for HD 36 Are Committed to Fighting Against Hate and Bias

Denver, CO -- Today, Stop Antisemitism Colorado Action Fund announced its slate of candidate endorsements in four state legislative Democratic primary races: Judy Amabile for Senate District 18, Cecelia Espenoza for House District 4, Sean Camacho for House District 6, and Michael Carter for House District 36.

“After meeting with each of the candidates, we are confident they not only have the skills and experience to bring people together, but will uphold the values of the Jewish community and stand up to antisemitism. At a time when our political climate has become a toxic breeding ground for antisemitic rhetoric and tropes, the choice in these primary elections is clear. We will not continue to give power to people who hold antisemitic views, or hatred will become normalized,” said Stefanie Clarke, co-founder of Stop Antisemitism Colorado Action Fund.

Their primary opponents claim to be warriors of social justice, but that doesn’t extend to the Jewish community. They are undermining our shared values and perpetuating the very marginalization and ‘othering’ we have worked so hard to combat. Each of their opponents has received the endorsement of the Democratic Socialists of America, an organization with an aggressive anti-Israel agenda, which often veers into dangerous antisemitic rhetoric.”
